

JONATHAN GEMMEN

Location Analyst

Education

Bachelor of Art
Economics
Calvin College

Accountability & Related Experience

Mr. Gemmen's current experience with Austin Consulting includes food processing, beverage bottling, distribution centers, and manufacturing. Mr. Gemmen has performed community analysis, transportation analysis, utility analysis, site and building evaluation, and detailed industry research.

Prior to joining The Austin Company, Mr. Gemmen worked with the Metro Orlando Economic Development Commission, where he recruited companies from multiple industry sectors to Central Florida. During his five-year tenure, Mr. Gemmen worked closely with firms such as Staples, Whirlpool, JetBlue Airways, Cura Script, Windoor, Electronic Arts, Darden Restaurants and Hewitt Associates. His areas of expertise included incentives negotiation and permitting/regulatory approvals. During his time in Florida, Mr. Gemmen served on the board of directors of the Manufacturer's Association of Central Florida.

Mr. Gemmen's other prior work experience includes industrial real estate development and asset and property management in Research Triangle Park. During his time in North Carolina, he chaired the Workforce Development Council of the Greater Durham Chamber of Commerce. He began his career in automotive parts assembly and quality control.

Mr. Gemmen received a Bachelor Degree in Economics from Calvin College, where he served in student government.